August Kramer is the happy recipient of the Margarete Hertrich Award for the best seedling of 1958. William Wylam, Chairman of the Hertrich Awards Committee, gives Mr. Kramer his congratulations as he presents it for the already popular variety, 'Kramer's Supreme.' Plant Patent #1583.

Kramer's Supreme Has a Rich Heritage

The winning of the Margarete Hertrich Award is very gratifying to August Kramer who has been a nurseryman since 1895 when he was fifteen years old. Then it was that he bicycled about Farmingdale, Long Island, New York, taking orders for nursery stock. Later he graduated to a horse and spring wagon and to selling potted plants. In 1896 his brother Otto joined him and they built two greenhouses where they raised Geraniums and other miscellaneous plants.

Although flourishing in a business way, August's health broke and he was advised to come to California to enjoy a milder climate, 1915 found him selling automobiles in Fresno.

However, the Kramer Brothers could not turn away from horticulture so in 1916 August and Otto formed a partnership doing business as Kramer Bros. Nurseries, and they purchased land in Ontario, California, and raised fruit trees and nursery stock. Ten years later they bought 53 acres on Red Hill east of Upland, their present site, and began specializing in Camellias and Azaleas. With the passing of Otto in 1942, his widow, Addie Kramer, continued to carry on with the partnership.

The Awards that Mr. Kramer has received, namely: the Frank Williams Award for the Best Professional Flower, in 1956, and the Southern California Camellia Society's Margarete Hertrich Award for the "Best New Seedling of 1958," represent years of public recognition of his skill and knowledge. Noticing this particular seedling because of its vigorous and erect growth and the large size and rich color of its blooms, Mr. Kramer took steps to asexually reproduce it. The blooms are large, double-peony form from four and one-half to five and one-half inches when fully opened. The color is a scarlet-red and of good keeping qualities on the plant and as cut flowers. It blooms late January and February, where grown and observed. The plant is densely foliated with large glossy spinach-green leaves, that are coarsely serrated.

Out of the thousands of camellia seedlings the Kramers tested in the past thirty years, none has compared with "Kramer's Supreme." Mr. Kramer is proud to be the hybridizer of this fine camellia which will find its way into the heart and home of every camellia lover.
